5. What is the legal basis for processing personal data?

We only use personal information where that is permitted by the laws that protect privacy rights. We only use personal information where the law allows us to do so. Most commonly this is where:

- a) The person concerned has consented to its use;
- b) We need to use the information to comply with our legal obligations;
- c) We need to perform any agreement we have entered into with the person concerned;
- d) The processing is necessary for the legitimate interests of The Group or a third party unless there is a good reason to protect the personal data which overrides those legitimate interests.

Please note that we may process personal information without the knowledge or consent of the person concerned where this is required or permitted by law.

Data protection legislation identifies certain "special categories" of data, including information about race or ethnicity, religious beliefs, sexual orientation, medical conditions, and criminal convictions. We may use such information in the following ways:

- a) We may use information about physical or mental health, or disability status, to ensure the health and safety of the person concerned, and to provide appropriate adjustments;
- b) We may use information about race or national or ethnic origin, religious, philosophical or moral beliefs, or sexual life or sexual orientation, to ensure meaningful equal opportunity monitoring and reporting;
- c) We will usually only collect information about criminal convictions if it is appropriate given the nature of the role and where we are legally permitted to do so. Where appropriate, we may collect information about criminal convictions as part of the adult recruitment process or we may be notified of such information directly by the person concerned or others in the course of the person concerned undertaking the role.

6. How we store personal data

We generally store personal information in one of two secure digital online database systems, where access to that data is restricted and controlled.

Electronic records

Compass is the online membership system of The Scout Association, this system is used for the collection and storage of adult personal data.

Online Scout Manager is an online membership system run by Online Youth Manager Ltd, this is a secure membership database where we store the personal information of adults and youth members for the day to day running of Group Activities.

In addition, we hold some personal data on local spreadsheets / databases on Leaders' electronic equipment to which access is restricted and controlled through password protection.

The Group Website where we collect data from Parents (sign up and contact form), Scouts (sign up and contact form), Volunteers (helping out), Leaders (submitting attendance, health forms and feedback) and the Public (anyone can submit information to us using the contact us form) using secure online forms.

- Registration for training courses
- Events consent from parents
- Health and contact records forms (for events)
- Events coordination with event organisers

Throughout the year The Group will run a number of activities/events. Where it is necessary to fulfil our legal obligations, we will be required to potentially have a less secure means to access personal information, such as printouts of personal contacts and medical information, (including specific event contact forms), rather than relying on secure digital systems, as often the events are held where internet and digital access will not be available. We will minimise the use of paper to only what is required for the event / camp.

We will ensure:

- a) Transfer of paper is secure, such as physical hand-to-hand transfer or registered post;
- b) Paper forms are securely destroyed after use;
- c) Secure destruction will be through a shredding machine or securely burned;
- d) The paper records are always kept secure; and
- e) If transferred to somebody, we will audit that they return them when the event is complete.

We will share personal information with adults holding a Group appointment including Group Executive Members or individuals running a Group event.

We will share personal information with others outside The Group where we need to meet or enforce a legal obligation. This may include The Scout Association and its insurance subsidiary "Unity", local authority services and law enforcement.

We will never sell personal information to any third party for the purposes of marketing.

Sometimes we may nominate a member for national award (such as Scouting or Duke of Edinburgh award). Such nominations would require us to provide contact details to that organisation.
